Local and Neighborhood News.

Editor Arthur E. Bailey, of Cassopolis, has been appointed postmaster at that place, vice H. L. Glover, removed.

The twenty-fourth annual reunion and banquet of the twentieth Michigan Infantry was held at Battle Creek last Thursday.

The Brooklyn Tabernacle, in which Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage has preached to immense audiences for so many years, was destroyed by fire on Sunday the 13th inst. Mr. Talmage has issued a call, in which he asks every one throughout the country who has read his sermons, to contribute a dollar, so that a new building may at once be erected.

Silver Wedding.

Invited friends, to the number of about one hundred and fifty, gathered at the pleasant and capacious home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Free on the evening of Friday, Oct. 18th, to celebrate with them, the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. The house had been beautifully and tastefully decorated for the occasion.

On the wall had been wrought in everlasting flowers the dates 1864-1889, and standing immediately in front of these, the bride and groom received their guests, with smiling faces and pleasant words of greeting.

The passing years have dealt very gently with this happy pair, and present indications promise well for the future.

After a time spent in social and friendly greetings, the attention of the company was secured, and Mr. A. C. Glidden, in well chosen and appropriate words, recalled the circumstances incident to the wedding of twenty-five years ago, dwelling somewhat at length upon the interesting events of their lives, touching upon the sunshine and shadows which have fallen to the lot of this couple, and in closing, reflected the sentiment of all present, by wishing them still many years of happy and prosperous life.

Following this, Rev. E. H. Harvey, in his own inimitable and pleasing way, presented, in behalf of many of the assembled guests, a beautiful silver tea set and piano lamp, and closing with prayer, commended them to that golden future of the sweet by and bye. Many other valuable gifts were displayed, marking the high esteem in which this couple are held. An elegant repast was served at the residence of the Misses Bately.

At a late hour the company dispersed, showering upon Mr. and Mrs. Free generous and heartfelt wishes of continued health and prosperity.

The following is a list, as nearly as could be obtained, of those present.

A mysterious murder occurred about three miles south of Reading, this county, at about 9 o'clock last Wednesday night. Frank Brown, aged 40, the youngest son of Parley Brown, one of the old residents, was called to the door and shot dead, the ball entering above his left eye and killing him instantly. His wife, who was alone with him, ran to a neighbor's and gave the alarm. She can tell but very little about the affair.—Hillsdale Democrat.

A Correction.

Our article of last week entitled "A Warning," should have referred to the Inter-State Publishing House, instead of the Inter-State Publishing Co. of Chicago. By an unfortunate error of the type reference was made in one place to the Inter-State Publishing Co. The Inter-State Publishing Co. is a reputable and old established firm, with whom business can be, with safety, transacted.

National Grange Meeting at Sacramento, California.

Officers and Members of the National Grange P. of H.:

As you have already been advised, the 23d annual meeting of the National grange will be held in the city of Sacramento, California, by invitation of the State grange of that state, and a guarantee to pay all the expenses in excess of the average cost of the five previous sessions of that body, which is $6,057.03. As no reduction in railroad fare, below the regular rates to excursionists, has been secured, as was expected when the contract was made, and in view of the heavy financial burden which our California Patrons have so generously assumed, it seems but reasonable to infer that our officers and members will desire to make their traveling expenses as low as health, comfort and circumstances will permit, and to assume, individually, all extra expenses above the cost of direct passage occasioned by delays for pleasure and sight-seeing. The committee also believe that all who can conveniently do so will most gladly embrace the opportunity to go and return different routes, and those which offer the greatest variety of interesting scenery. Also, to stop over at several places of interest, where teams will be provided for all who desire them, for short drives. Notably, Colorado Springs, which is but a few miles from the "Garden of the Gods."

We have therefore arranged with the Chicago, Topeka, Santa Fe & California Railroad Co. to transport our members, and all who desire to accompany us, from Chicago to Sacramento and return, giving all their choice of routes in returning, but the return route must be selected when tickets are purchased. First class, round trip tickets, good for six months, with stop-over privileges going and returning, will cost $100 from Chicago; $92 from St. Louis, and $80 from Kansas City. Purchase your round trip tickets from place of starting to San Francisco and return, as you will doubtless get lower rates to Chicago or Kansas city and return by going so. Follow the directions given in Santa Fe railroad circular. Chair cars will be free on trains from Chicago to Denver, and from Los Angeles to Chicago in returning. For sleeping accommodations, we have arranged for the New Pullman Tourist Sleepers, which are fully described in the railroad company's circular. It is conceded that these cars are more healthy and quite as comfortable for sleeping purposes as palace cars. They have the same bedding, toilet rooms and porter service, and cost but little more than one-fourth as much as palace cars. But all who desire Pullman palace cars can be accommodated by paying the extra cost. Tourist sleepers have twelve sections, or twenty-four double berths, and will accommodate forty-eight passengers. Thirty-six, or three to a section, can be very comfortably accommodated. But we have arranged to give each officer and delegate a double berth, or a section to each couple to occupy and control. The cost is $8.00 for a section, or $4.00 for a double berth. But all in the Pullman palace sleepers $31.00 for a section, or $15.50 for a double berth is charged.

Our party will leave Chicago on Tuesday, the 5th day of November, at 6:25 p. m., and Kansas City at 11:20 p. m., of Wednesday, the 6th, (see company's time table) and arrive in Sacramento Tuesday morning, the 12th. Those who do not desire to accompany the excursion, but go directly through, can do so and reach Sacramento in time by leaving Chicago on Thursday or Friday following, and obtain the same accommodations on train, and at the same rates, as those who have preceded them. But we are sanguine that all will be well paid by going with us and viewing the grand mountain scenery, through and over which the route we have selected will take us. Members of the order and their friends everywhere are cordially invited to accompany us; but all officers, members and others who desire accommodations with our party should write the secretary of this committee, as soon as possible, and state the number of passengers for whom they desire accommodations, and number of sections or double berths in sleeper they will require. While delegates will be entitled to meals while traveling at the prices charged, (75 cts. in dining car and eating houses), yet we advise that capacious and well-filled lunch-basket with drop handles, be not dispensed with. A small range in the tourist car is provided for making tea and coffee. It is said that no one who has ever taken this trip without such provisions will ever repeat the folly. Our friends who accompany us will receive the same accommodations and attention as delegates, and at the same cost.

After the close of the meeting, and a few days of sight-seeing in California, our party will return via San Francisco, Los Angeles and Santa Fe to Chicago. By order of the Executive Committee N. G. P. of H.

Why the Bear Got Mad.

Said Mr. Southmayd: "When a man goes out after them he wants to be sure that his ammunition is all right. Three weeks ago I was out gunning for birds and happened to run across a big black bear. He was about ten yards away, standing on a log and looking at me in the most impudent manner. "I always carry a couple of buckshot cartridges in my left coat pocket for just such occasions. Breaking open my gun, I extracted the cartridges of small shot, kept my eye on the bear and inserted two shells from my left pocket. "Then I confidently blazed away at his head. He didn't tumble over as he ought to have done, but snarled wickedly and made a break for me. Without retreating a step I let him have the other barrel, and that didn't stop him worth a cent. "About that time I began to suspect that there was some hitch in my combination, and when he knocked the gun out of my hands I inferred that it was time for me to get away. You ought to have seen me go. I guess he would have won the race if it hadn't been for a big split bowlder in the track. The split was just wide enough for me to get through, and I went through there lively. He reached out and got a piece of my shirt, but he stuck fast in the cleft long enough for me to get a hundred yards the start, and then I was safe.

"When I got home I found two buckshot cartridges safe and snug in my side pocket. I must have dropped two other shells in with them absent mindingly, and it was just my luck to grab the light loads when I wanted big shot. I had peppered that old bear in the face with equal shot, and I don't blame him for getting mad. I was mad myself when I found it out."—San Francisco Examiner.

Curious Chinese Notions.

Both savage and semi-barbarous people have always exhibited a great repugnance to any surgical operation, however necessary, which involves amputation. The North China Herald, commenting upon this circumstance, points out that the Chinese have always shown this repugnance, not on account of fear of pain, for they are patient under all kinds of physical suffering, but because they look upon it as a duty to keep the body intact. If they submit to the amputation of a limb, they invariably ask for the severed member, and keep it in a box, to be buried in due time in the earth. Sometimes they will actually eat it, thinking it only right that that which has been taken from the body should be returned to it.

On the same principle an extracted tooth will be carefully preserved, or ground to powder and swallowed in water. Another curious phase of the same idea is seen in the belief that a sick parent can be cured by broth made from flesh cut from a living child, and it is looked upon as a sign of filial piety for the child to submit himself to an operation for that purpose. The child is supposed to be of the vital essence of the parent, and if a portion of this essence is returned to the fountain head, the parent will be greatly strengthened. The peace-loving nature of the Chinese is said to be largely due to this respect for the human body.—Chambers' Journal.

Food for Consumptives.

Snails, in the opinion of Willich, are equal in value to oysters. They are, he says, equally nourishing and wholesome. In account of their gelatinous nature they have lately been much used in consumptions; and as these complaints are now very frequent it were to be wished, says Medical Classics, that such patients would give the remedy a fair trial by boiling a dozen of the red garden snails every day in a quart of sweet milk or whey for half an hour, then straining the liquor through a coarse cloth and drinking it with sugar every morning gradually up to a certain quantity, and repeating these draughts for a month or two if required.

This red garden snail has also been used externally in the open hemorrhoids, where fresh snails were applied every two or three hours, in a raw state, with remarkable success.

The large Roman or edible snail is recommended as a delicacy and a cure of its reputed virtues as a remedy in cases of consumption, which it is said has in several instances been entirely cured by a regimen of the mucilage from these snails. On the continent the Roman snail is considered a great delicacy; but the garden and yellow banded snails are the kinds more commonly eaten.

The "Block" System.

The block system, as it is now termed in railroad language, is simply the division of a railway into certain numbers of what are called telegraphic districts, the distance between which is determined by the amount of traffic, and each block station has signaling instruments by which the signal man can communicate with the box on each side of him. Now, when a train enters any block, a semaphore signal is lowered, and no train is allowed to follow until the one in front has reached the end of the block, when the signal is raised and at the same time lowered for the block ahead, etc. The block systems in use in Europe and in the United States employ mechanical devices for lowering and raising the outdoor signal; but these, it is thought, will eventually be replaced by automatic devices.

The Mud Supply.

The question agitated years ago, "What becomes of all the pins?" might be supplemented by the query, "Where does Pittsburg's mud come from?" From some unknown and mysterious source there comes to the streets of the Iron City tons upon tons of mud. It is carted away, washed away, scraped away, only to reappear and to grow in bulk as rapidly as did Jonah's gourd. Known causes for this increment are not sufficient to explain the presence of these muddy avalanches. The debris of new buildings, the droppings from wagons, the washings from higher portions of the city; these do not wholly account for the perennially gathering deposits. It must be that Pittsburg mud, like Topsy, "jes' grewed."—Pittsburg Bulletin.

The following would indicate that there is still hope for the paralyzed. Frank Cornelius, Purcell, Indian Ter., says: "I induced Mr. Pinson, whose wife had paralysis in the face, to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. To their great surprise before the bottle had all been used she was a great deal better. Her face had been drawn to one side, but the Pain Balm relieved all pain and soreness, and the mouth assumed its natural shape." A terrific Gabriel-trumpet-like report brought the people of college hill to their senses Tuesday forenoon. Some thought it to be only the first volley of some Junior contest orator, but investigation proved it to have proceeded from the chemical laboratory. Prof. Smith and a few students were experimenting with the oxyhydrogen blowpipe, but air had in some way got mixed with the hydrogen in the gasometer, thus causing the explosion. Fortunately no one was hurt, although considerable damage was done.—Hillsdale Democrat. Harry Myers and Ralph Jennings are in attendance at the college where this explosion took place.

LEGAL NOTICES.

MORTGAGE SALE.--Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, made by John Elyea and Joseph Elyea, his wife, to Mary Elyea, bearing date the 20th day of February, A. D. 1888, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Van Buren county, Michigan, on the 10th day of March, A. D. 1888, in Liber 20 of mortgages, on page 266, and on which mortgage there is claimed to be now due and unpaid the sum of one hundred and twenty-two and 88-100 ($122.88) dollars, interest, and an attorney fee of twenty-five dollars, provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the money secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;
